

Ongoing Art Activity

For our next Art project, I wanted to create a collage that reflects who you are. First, you need to get a photograph of yourself (just your head or head and shoulders).

Then you need to look through magazines, newspapers, the internet and find images that reflect who you are. They can relate to your interests, beliefs, loved ones, passions, personality, places you have visited strengths, weaknesses, likes / dislikes.

When you have all your images, look at the examples below and think about how to layer them over your head and each other.

Now, I am optimistic that we will return to school before the end of the year, so for now just arrange the images (don't stick them down) to see if you are happy with them and put them somewhere safe. You could possibly take a photo of your work, so you don't forget where you put things (this could be e-mailed to me so I can see what you have done so far).

Hopefully we will return to school, where we can create the final piece and if you need more images, we can print them off at school. If you did photography club with me, maybe there is a way you could use one of those photos of yourself (photocopy or scan into your computer).
